COLUMBIA PROGRAMS

Columbia-led programs are administered by the Columbia University Center for Undergraduate Global Engagement. Columbia is continually working towards building a network of opportunities around the world designed to provide a broad portfolio of international options to its undergraduates. Reviewed and approved by the Faculty Committee for Study Abroad, Columbia students can choose to study during the semester/academic year or during the summer in over 150 programs in over 100 cities for academic credit.

Contact Information
Center for Undergraduate Global Engagement (UGE)
606 Kent Hall
(212) 854-2559