The Department of Dance
Mission
The Barnard College Department of Dance, located in a world dance capital, offers an interdisciplinary program that integrates the study of dance within a liberal arts setting of intellectual and creative exploration. The major builds upon studio courses, the Department's productions at Miller Theater, New York Live Arts, and other venues, as well as a rich array of dance studies courses, allowing students' creative work to develop in dialogue with critical inquiry into the history, culture, theory and forms of western and non-western performance, typically enhanced by study in other disciplines. Students work with accomplished artists whose work enriches contemporary American dance; they also study with outstanding research scholars.

Making, thinking about, and writing about art are an essential part of the liberal arts education. For this reason, the Department of Dance offers technique courses for students of all levels of expertise, while opening its other courses to majors and non-majors alike, who may also audition for its productions. The Department partners with cultural institutions in New York City to connect students with the professional world.

Student Advising
Advising Resources
- Newly declared or prospective dance majors and minors should consult with the Dance Department Chair.
- Sign up for the Dance Department Listserv by contacting dance@barnard.edu
- The Dance Department holds 2 program planning meetings a year (one in the fall and one in the spring).

Enrolling in Courses
Technique class levels are confirmed during the shopping period. You must attend the first 2 classes.

Rehearsal and Performance DNCE BC 3601- DNCE BC 3607 requires an audition usually scheduled for the first week of classes.

Transfer Credit
- When students wish to transfer credit to Barnard from other institutions, their coursework is first evaluated for college elective credit by the Registrar's Office. If they are approved, departments can consider these courses for credit toward the major or minor.
- Transfer students should send their transcripts to the Dance Department Chair for credit evaluation.

Study Abroad Credit
- Classes taken abroad through Columbia-led programs (i.e., those administered by Columbia’s Center for Global Engagement) are treated as Columbia courses, equivalent to those taken on the Morningside Heights campus.
- Classes taken abroad through other institutions or programs are treated as transfer credit and are subject to the same policies as other transfer courses. Accordingly, there will be a limit on the number of study abroad courses taken at other institutions that can be counted toward the major or minor.
- To receive credit toward the major or minor for a study abroad course (whether taken through a Columbia program or another institution/program), students must submit a Study Abroad Approval form through Slate and obtain the approval of the Chair or departmental representative.
Summer Credit

- Summer courses at Barnard are equivalent to those taken during the academic year. Courses that have been approved for the fulfillment of departmental requirements will automatically count toward your major.
- Courses taken at other institutions (including Columbia) are considered transfer credit and are subject to the same governing other transfer courses. To receive major or minor credit for a summer course taken at another institution, students must submit a Summer Course form through Slate and have it approved by both the Registrar’s Office and the Chair or departmental representative.

Senior Capstone Project

Senior Seminar (DNCE BC3591) is the capstone experience of your years of study as a dance major. It is probably the most challenging course you will take in the Department, because for so much of the time you will be working on your own, and because the thesis is probably the longest and most complex piece of analytical writing that you will undertake in college. No matter what your area of interest, you need to come up with a topic, create a bibliography, develop an original thesis, conduct in-depth research, and build a convincing argument in support of your claims. This is not a project that you can do overnight. By the same token, it is one that will stand you in good stead even if you never write another word about your topic. The process of conceptualizing, researching, writing, and revising a thesis—and the skills all this entails—will carry over into realms of activity very far from dance.

Senior Project: Repertory for Dance (DNCE BC 3593) is the culminating experience of your major work and is based on research, investigation, interpretation, and the creative synthesis of movement. As with Senior Seminar, there will be a good amount of time in which you are working on your own, whether it is creating the movement language and managing your rehearsal schedule (including studio space requests to the Technical Director), attending to the music-sound needs of your work with the Music Director, exploring multi-media possibilities, or creating/recreating/staging choreography or designing/resourcing costumes for your work. Students will work on their own creative project as well as offering support for each other’s work throughout the semester.

DNCE BC2252 AFRICAN DANCE I. 2.00 points.

In West Africa, dance is part of daily life. It is used to mark occasions such as a birth, death, harvest, and marriage. It is also used to unite the community in times of crisis. West African dance is not as much a strict technique as it is a movement coming from the spirit and the rhythm of the drum and the energy of the people. While there are certain steps that go with specific rhythms, it leaves space for the individual interpretation and improvisations which is an important element. Dancing is more about the communication between dancer and drummer. The movement of West African dance tends to be energetic and big. It is very expressive, and the energy is outward. Some African dance steps are taken directly from daily activities such as planting or hunting. Most, however, are an expression of joy or release of the spirit. Dancing is done by communicating with a drummer to create positive energy. It is a way to enjoy oneself and each other. In African dance, the name of the dance is the same as the name of the rhythm played by the drummer. The individual steps that make up the dance do not have names. In this course, we are going to be learning various West African dances such as Sikko, Socco, Kuku, Mandiany, Farakorroba, Sunu, Soli, Lamba, Mandjo, Diambadong, Doundounba, Kaolask, Thieboudjeune, Niarry-gorong, Ekongkong, Wolossodong, Zaouly, Ngorong, Niakka, Maraka, Djansa and Lengeng/Kutiro.

DNCE BC2254 CLASSICAL INDIAN I. 2.00 points.

Bharatanatyam is typically studied as a theater dance form, and as a spiritual practice. In this class, traditional and contemporary teaching approaches are combined to introduce the participant to an overview of technical and performative aspects of the form. An example of the adjusted structure of the classes is that we begin each class with hatha yoga based stretches and dance warm ups that specifically target the kind of joint articulation that the form presupposes. We focus on the basic stance, the arda-mandi, along with the technique of stamping as exemplified in the series of adavu, (basic combinations of hand, foot and rhythmic movement.) Following the progressive difficulty of the adavu system itself, more challenging combinations of hand and footwork will be introduced. Head and eye techniques will be introduced first in isolation then in combination. The last stage of this class involves learning a short abstract dance to music especially pre-recorded for a particular version of a dance genre and adjusted for difficulty level. This is in order to experience how the parts of the technique are integrated and to experience the state of performing. Students will be invited to perform at informal showings.
DNCE BC2255 AFRO-CUBAN DANCE. 2.00 points.
This course introduces students to the African-based dances of Cuba, including dances for the Orisha, Rumba, and the immensely joyful “Rueda de Casino” style of Salsa. In addition to learning rhythms, songs, and dances, we will have an ongoing, informal discussion about the historical and contemporary significance of Afro-Cuban dance performance, making connections to personal experience through practice and ongoing reflection. We engage Afro-Cuban music and dance as a living and evolving tradition, where culture, artistry, and history are intimately bound.

DNCE BC2256 Advanced Explorations in AfroCuban Dance. 2.00 points.
An upper-level exploration of Afro-Cuban Dance focused on performance. Building on the foundation of Afro-Cuban Dance: Orisha, Rumba, Salsa, this course is a deeper dive into aesthetic principles, cultural themes, and improvisation as performance in the African dance context. Students explore multiple distinct dances and learn to engage the storytelling and cultural significance of each dance through improvisation with the drums. The course culminates with final, in-class presentations. Open to experienced movers and students who have completed Afro-Cuban Dance: Orisha, Rumba, Salsa. Permission of instructor required.

DNCE BC2260 HIP HOP DANCE # CULTURE III (ADVANCED). 2.00 points.

A range of dance genres, from the traditional to the innovative, co-exist as representations of Indianess in India, and beyond. Identities onstage and in films, morph as colonial, national, and global contexts change. This course zooms from micro to macro views of twentieth century staged dances as culturally inflected discourse. We review how Indian classical dance aligns with the oldest of performance texts, and with lively discourses (rasa as a performance aesthetic, Orientalism, nationalism, global recirculations) through the ages, not only in India but also in Europe, Britain and America. Throughout the course, we ask:- How is culture embodied? How do historical texts configure dance today? How might they affect our thinking on mind-body, practice-theory, and traditional-contemporary divides? How does bodily patterning influence the ways that we experience our surroundings and vice versa? Can cultural imaginaries instigate action? How is gender is performed? What are dance discourses?
